

To our clients and friends,

Our current public health crisis is having an unprecedented impact on our personal lives and businesses. The Goldblatt Bokoff team is prepared to guide clients through this uncertainty. Various relief provisions and economic stimulus packages have been announced in recent days, along with due date extensions for tax filings and payments. The situation is constantly evolving, and we are keeping apprised of these changes so we can be of assistance. We strive to keep you informed during this rapidly changing environment, and to provide the service that you deserve and expect and likely need more than ever. Please find some links to resources and general information below.

Tax Filing and Payments:

- Internal Revenue Service – Filing and Payment Deadlines, Questions and Answers
- Connecticut Department of Revenue Services – Filing and Payment Deadlines, Questions and Answers

Employment-Related Matters:

- Connecticut Department of Labor – FAQ COVID-19 for Workers and Employers
- For Employers – IR-2020-57 Paid Leave for Workers and Employer Tax Credits
- For Employees – Filing for Unemployment Benefits

Small Business Resources:

- CT Department of Economic & Community Development – Small Business Owner's Guide to the CARES Act
- Small Business Administration – COVID-19 Guidance & Loan Resources
- Connecticut Department of Banking – COVID-19 Information/Resources
- SBA Paycheck Protection Program – Application & Additional Information

Health Insurance Information:

- Access Health CT – Special Enrollment Available for Uninsured Due to a Qualifying Life Event
- IRS Notice Regarding High Deductible Health Plans – Coverage for COVID-19 Costs